

Lebanon Police Department Open Training Calendar

If you have questions about these courses or about local accommodations, please contact:
Corporal Joshua Alden (603-448-1212) or Lieutenant Scott Rathburn (603-448-8800).

Courses are open ONLY to law enforcement personnel.

The Sex Offender's Background: Making it Work for Your Investigation

4th Annual WISE Sexual Assault Investigation Seminar

November 12, 2009 (Thursday)

Class times: 08:00-17:00

Cost: FREE

Presenter: Claire Harwell

To register: Contact Cpl. Josh Alden at Lebanon PD: 603-448-1212

Former officer Claire Harwell will present on sexual assault perpetrators, including patterns, myths of specialization, how various types of sexual assault and other crimes pattern together, how perpetrators select targets, and how investigation of a perpetrator's history can benefit investigations.

Ms. Harwell was a law enforcement officer in North Carolina before becoming a national trainer for police, prosecutors and civil attorneys.

Hostage Negotiations and Crisis Intervention

November 30 – December 04, 2009

Class times: 08:30-16:30

Cost: $385 per person

Presenter: Ralph DiFonzo, Jr. Retired Special Agent, FBI

Click HERE to register

Course description:

This five day course combines lectures, incident reviews and role playing scenarios to each attending officer or whose agency is contemplating the structuring of a Crisis Negotiation/ Response team.

This training will provide the student with the necessary fundamentals and theories regarding the handling of a crisis negotiation/intervention. It will assist the student's ability to form a Crisis Negotiation team and how to effectively handle crisis situations.

Through lectures, reviews of actual crisis incidents and classroom discussions the officer will fully enhance his/her ability to handle various aspects of crisis negotiations and intervention. Role-playing scenarios will be a key part of this course so that the officer will understand the dynamics of each fluid situation.

Seminar Agenda:

Fundamentals of Crisis Negotiation discuss the differences between a hostage vs. non-hostage situation
explain the Action Criteria tirade

- list items that are / are not negotiable
- deadlines & demands
- demonstrate the common means of communicating with subject
- how to structure a “Negotiation Team”
- utilize the seven (7) elements of “Active Listening”
- suicide intervention
- explain the four (4) disorders discussed in “abnormal psychology”
- explain the “why and when” to use TPI
- discuss the Tactical Role of a Negotiator
- discuss the formation of the (NOC) and its relationship to the Command Post

Role Playing: Officer will negotiate with different role players involved in several challenging situations. The instructors and role players will critique all situations at the conclusion of this course.

Please click the above link to register for the course.

If that does not work, please contact Cpl. Josh Alden at Lebanon PD: 603-448-1212.

Loaded for Squirrel: New law, Lebanon District Court, and how to build the conviction at the scene

December 11, 2009 (Thursday)

Class times: 08:00-12:00, 13:00-17:00 (same class, two distinct times)

Cost: FREE

Presenter: Attorney Mark Pierce, Lebanon Assistant Prosecutor

To register: Contact Cpl. Josh Alden at Lebanon PD: 603-448-1212

This session will cover:

The 2010 legal update for New Hampshire

Strategies for success in Lebanon District Court particularly

Convict 'em on the Street: the small but important details which defense attorneys love

Attorney Pierce is the Assistant Prosecutor for Lebanon Police Department

Dust 'n' Bust

January 26-28, 2010

Class times: 08:30-16:30

Cost: $250 per person

Presenter: Charles Walsh, of Forensic Consulting Associates of New England, LLC

Click HERE to register

Course description:

This Twenty-four (24) Hour Three Day, Hands-on Training Course will provide the Law Enforcement Officer the fundamental techniques necessary to obtain complete and legible inked finger and palm impressions. The officer will also acquire skills in the proper recovery of latent finger and palm impressions at the crime scene. In addition, the officer will be introduced to proper methods in Crime Scene Administration and Management and Collection and Preservation of Physical Evidence. It is noted that this course is a preliminary introduction to Crime Scene Investigation designed to give, newly assigned Detectives and Patrol Officers tasked to conducting crime scene investigations, a fundamental knowledge of Crime Scene Investigation techniques.

Day One: Fingerprinting Techniques and Classification

- Fingerprint Pattern Recognition
- Acquiring Inked Finger and Palm Impressions
- Palm Print Identification
- Introduction to Electronic Fingerprint Capture Devices
- Introduction to Automated Fingerprint Identification Systems (AFIS)

Day Two: Latent Fingerprint Recovery Techniques

- Visual Examination of Latent Impressions
- Preserving Latent Impressions with Cyanoacrylate (super glue)
- Photographing of Latent Impressions
- Recovering and Lifting Latent Impressions
- Recovery of Patent (three dimensional) Finger and Palm Impressions
- Processing vehicles for Latent Impressions
- Utilizing Alternate Light Sources, Fluorescing Powders and Dye Stains
- Submission of required projects by class members
 - set of inked finger and palm impressions
 - photographs and lifts of latent impressions

Day Three: Crime Scene Investigation

- Crime Scene Administration, Management and Documentation
- Trace Evidence Recovery (Hair, Fiber, Blood, Semen, Soil, etc.)
- Recovery of Two and Three Dimensional Shoe and Tire Impression Evidence
- Class Critique and granting of certificates

Please click the above link to register for the course.

If that does not work, please contact Cpl. Josh Alden at Lebanon PD: 603-448-1212.